If you are self-employed, you pay the combined employee and employer amount, which is a 12.4 percent Social Security tax on up to $132,900 of your net earnings.

*If you have earned income of more than $200,000 ($250,000 for married couples filing jointly), you must pay 0.9 percent more in Medicare taxes.

Help Us Keep Your Earnings Record Accurate

You, your employer and Social Security share responsibility for the accuracy of your earnings record. Since you began working, we recorded your reported earnings under your name and Social Security number. We have updated your record each than one employer during any year, or if you had both earnings time your employer (or you, if you're self-employed) reported your earnings.

Remember, it's your earnings, not the amount of taxes you paid or the number of credits you've earned, that determine your benefit amount. When we figure that amount, we base it on your Earnings above the limit will not appear on your earnings average earnings over your lifetime. If our records are wrong, chart as Social Security earnings. (For Medicare taxes, the you may not receive all the benefits to which you're entitled. Review this chart carefully using your own records to make sure our information is correct and that we've recorded each year you worked. You're the only person who can look at the earnings chart and know whether it is complete and correct.

Some or all of your earnings from last year may not be shown on your Statement. It could be that we still were processing last year's earnings reports when your Statement was prepared. Your complete earnings for last year will be shown on next year's Statement. Note: If you worked for more and self-employment income, we combined your earnings for There's a limit on the amount of earnings on which you pay Social Security taxes each year. The limit increases yearly. maximum earnings amount began rising in 1991. Since 1994, all of your earnings are taxed for Medicare.)

	Your child.	1,326 a month
	Your spouse who is caring for your child$
	Your spouse, if benefits start at full retirement age$
	Total family benefits cannot be more than$	3,282 a month
	Your spouse or minor child may be eligible for a special one-time death benefit of $255.
Medicare	You have enough credits to qualify for Medicare at age 65. Even if you do not retire at age 65, be sure to contact Social Security three months before your 65th birthday to enroll in Medicare.
	* Your estimated benefits are based on current law. Congress has made changes to the law in the past and can do so at any time. The law governing benefit amounts may change because, by 2035, the payroll taxes collected will be enough to pay only about 80 percent of scheduled benefits.
	We based your benefit estimates on these facts:
	Your date of birth (please verify your name on page 1 and this date of birth)	April 5, 1979
	Your estimated taxable earnings per year after 2019	$51,714
